Cyanotech's Hawaiian Spirulina Pacifica® Proven Nutritionally Superior

Cyanotech Corporation, Hawkins Watts supplier of Spirulina, has published independent results comparing the nutritional composition of Hawaiian Spirulina Pacifica® against two competitor products and found the Hawaiian Spirulina Pacifica® to be nutritionally better.

The study compared Cyanotech Hawaiian Spirulina Pacifica® with California Spirulina and Indian Organic Spirulina and found the Cyanotech material to have significantly higher levels of Iron, Zeaxanthin, total carotenoids and Vitamins A, B12 and K

Hawaiian Spirulina Pacifica is exclusively cultivated in an environment most similar to nature, using 100% potable drinking water from Hawaiian aquifers, and pure deep ocean water with 94 trace minerals to deliver a superior product with the highest nutritional content available.

“It is further evidence that the Cyanotech sets the standard for quality” said Alan Bulmer, Cyanotech Product Manager at Hawkins Watts Ltd.

Details of the news release and nutritional results can be found at www.hawkinswatts.com/ press release.
